HOLLOWAY PROMOTED TO VICE PRESIDENT/INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY DIRECTOR

Jefferson City, MO (April 26, 2018): Matt Sinnett, President/CEO of Midwest Independent Bank (MIB) announces the promotion of Cole Holloway to Vice President/Information Technology Director.

Cole joined the MIB team in May of 2015 as Network Administrator. He was promoted to Assistant Vice President/Information Technology Director in February 2016.

Cole has over 15 years of IT experience, plus a wealth of knowledge on computer systems. He came to MIB in early 2015, from IBM, where he was a Subject Matter Expert for the Columbia VMware team.

Cole graduated from William Woods University in 2005 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Computer Science. Cole is currently attending the Missouri School of Bank Management.

MIB is a “bankers’ bank” which provides a wide array of correspondent banking services to close to 525 financial institutions throughout the Midwest. Based in Jefferson City, MIB’s banking services are provided exclusively to financial institutions. The website for MIB is www.mibanc.com.
